MOA, said moh-ah, is how Locals refer to the largest retail shopping mall in the United States. Most locals avoid the more than 2,779,242 feet of retail space unless on weeknights or at odd times of the weekend. The mall, which includes a full amusement park and aquarium, receives over 40 million visitors annually, which is higher than the population of Canada. You'll know the locals by how quickly they navigate the crowds to get where they're going.
