MINNESOTA LINGO

Blizzards are a specific kind of winter storm that must last over 3 hours, with at least 35 mph winds and ¼ mile or less visibility. The largest & longest in Minnesota history was relatively recent: Oct 31-Nov 3, 1991. The now infamous Halloween Blizzard dropped over 28 inches in Minneapolis and nearly 37 inches in Duluth. None of that stopped the Trick-or-Treaters from getting their treats.
